

September 6, 2022

PRICE INCREASE NOTIFICATION

Dear Valued Customer,

This letter serves as notification of a price increase, ranging between 8% to 12%, in which FUCHS Lubricants Co. will implement on October 1, 2022.

The need for pricing change is driven by increases on base oil as well as ongoing escalation in the cost of many other raw materials used in the blending and packaging of lubricants. These include both petroleum and non-petroleum based lubricant additives, plastic resin, and steel. Additional factors include higher costs associated with both inbound and outbound freight as well as continued overall stress on supply chain conditions.

We appreciate your understanding and thank you for the continued business in serving your lubrication needs.

Sincerely,

Hunter Swearingen
Sales Manager – West Coast Division